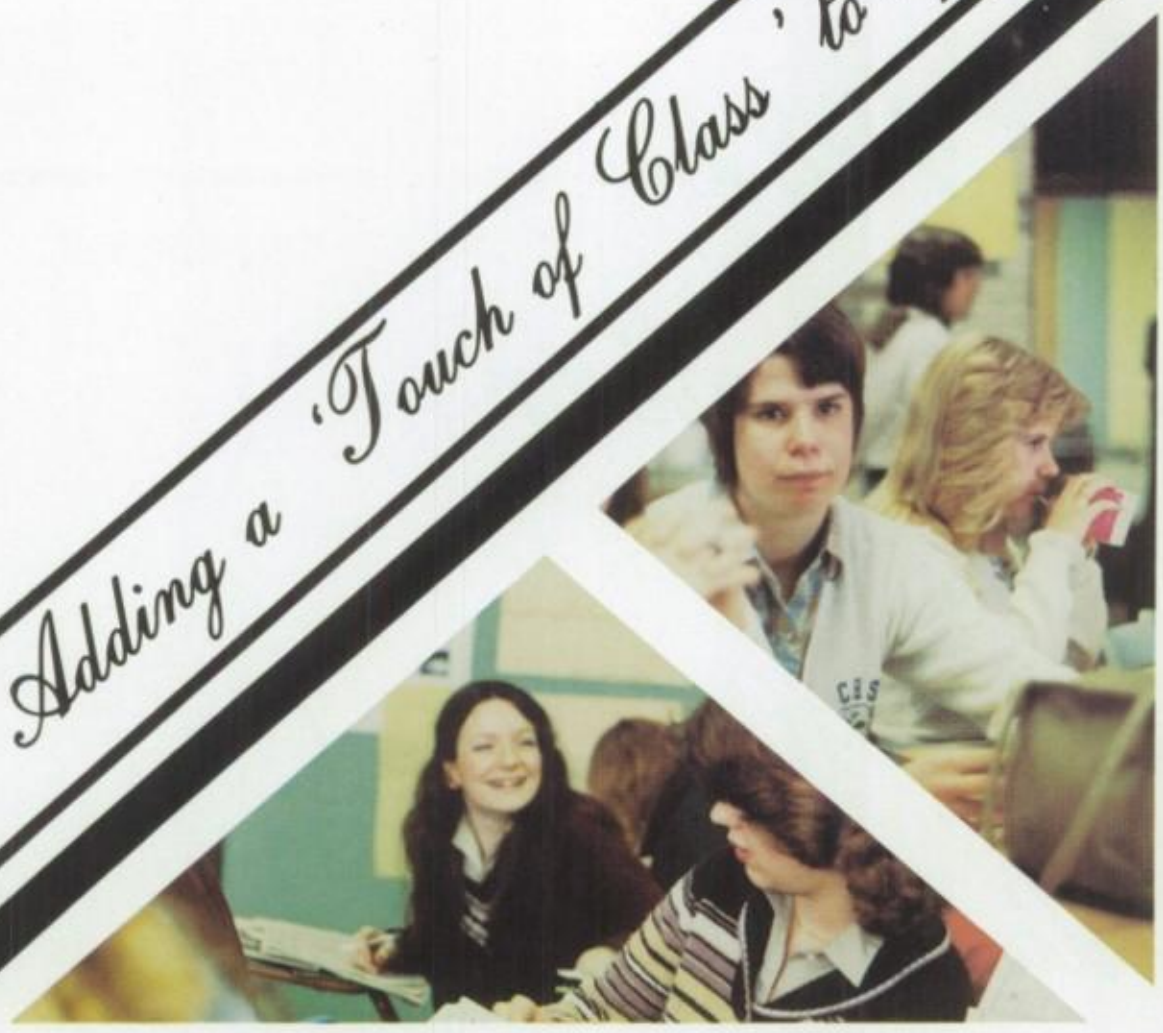
Adding a 'Touch of Class' to life



Always a 'classy' place with its circular design and extraordinary people, CHS has taken on an even classier look with the completion of the $4.5 million addition. So, it's only natural that we are going to guide you through the '82 Mortonian with the theme, "A Touch of Class."

Izod shirts and Doxider shoes to 'Gag me' and 'I'm so sure' were among the waves and trends seen and heard through the halls during the 81-82 year. Not forgetting the favorites, faded, tight jeans and baggy sweat shirts along with the addition of our version of the preppies, we still rose above the ordinary to achieve our classy state.

We also claimed some 'classy' individuals including Joe Lake who went to State in Cross-Country along with 32-year-old Linda Day who returned to school to graduate with her senior son, Don.

Now it's time to explore your yearbook and find out why we've called it "A Touch of Class."

During the fall months CHS students kept busy with homecoming, the fall play and, as always, homework.

The coldest weather of the century marked the winter school months. Mid-term graduates launched into "the real world" while the remaining seniors and the underclassmen prepared for second semester activities.

The spring athletics and final exams filled April and May. The long-awaited graduation for the class of 1982 closed the school year and commenced summer break for the classes of 1983, 1984 and 1985.

1. "10+10=20," chant Julie Karn and Sherri Falin. 2. Chris Mullins prods, "Am I cool or what?" 3. Scott Cole displays a winning tongue. 4. Brian Baldwin — from flat to fluffy! 5. Jill Corwin and Kathy Jensen seductively flaunt their legs. 6. Jim Stottlemire, Dale Stamper and Greg Dancho modestly pose for a shutterbug. 7. Seniors Jerry Glenn, Deneen Nolley, Rick Smith, Craig Austerman, John Ball and Scott Barton ward off the lunch monster. 8. Lori Beier and Karen Burtzlaff flash victorious smiles after a long Model Legislature session. 9. Craig Austerman precariously balances on his good leg.

1. Scott Barton tests a new strategy for staying quiet during class. 2. Becky Hazeltine gives a happy wave as she eagerly awaits a mid-day delicacy. 3. Innovative seniors Dan Myers and Craig Austerman devise a way to get into the Homecoming parade and become celebrities. 4. Warm weather and good food are two favorite things at CHS; just ask Julie Karn! 5. It's "Nap Time!" for Lisa Hughes as she finds any place is adaptable.

As students returned to classes last fall, they found a new "touch" to the school. The construction project had been completed. The new area's daily life started the first day when the entire student body toured the facilities.

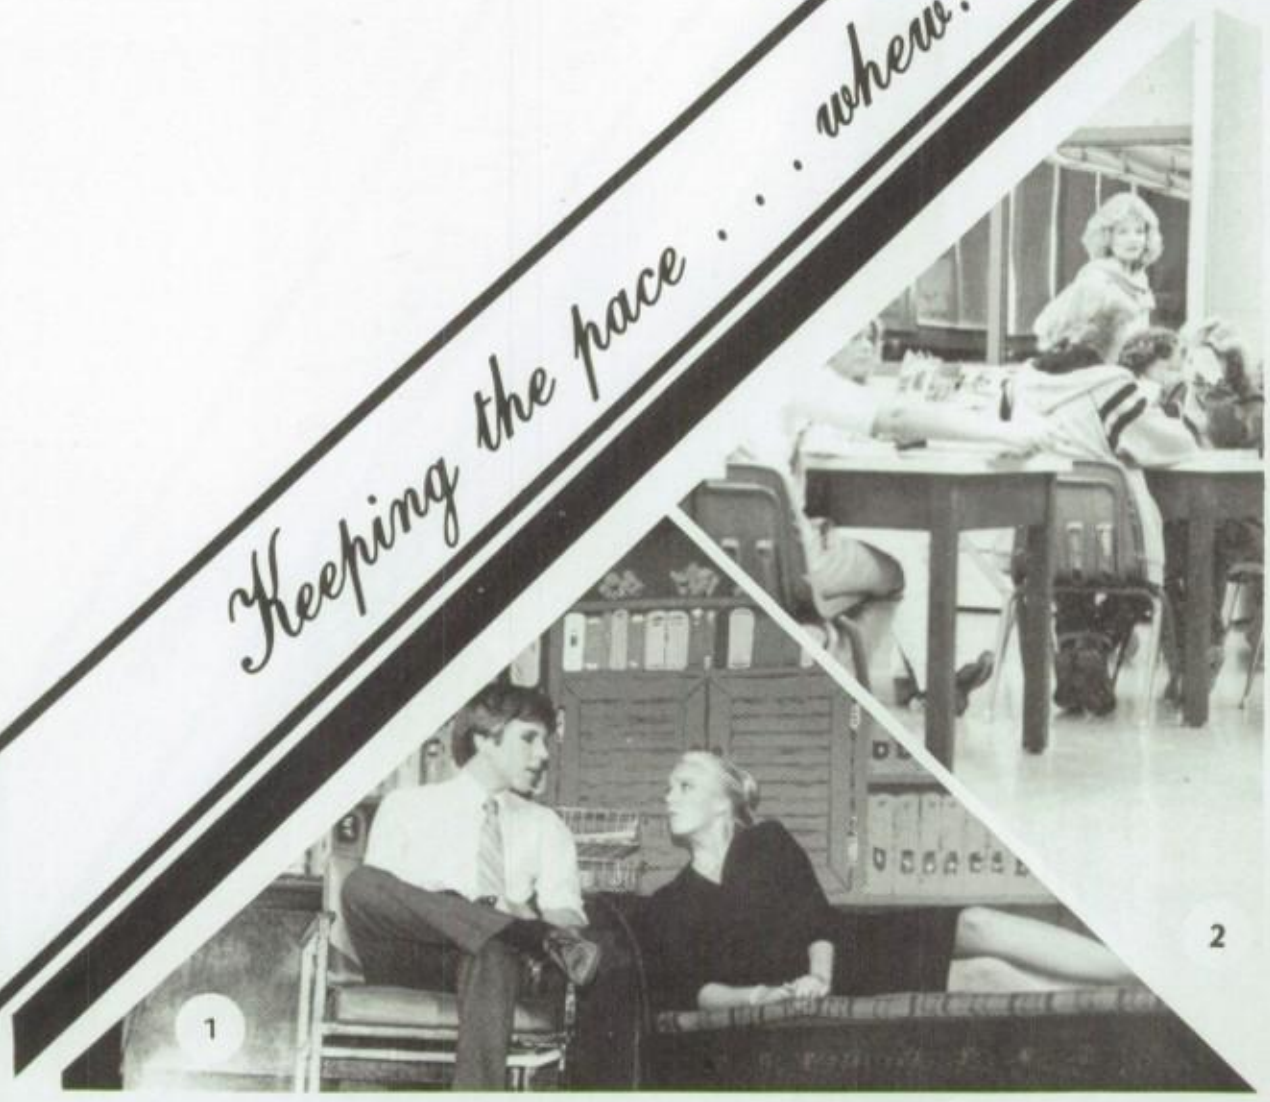
The swimming pool was easily the most anticipated. The first swim club, PE classes, community swims, and private parties have kept the pool busy. Next door, the new auxiliary gym has also been in heavy use.

An auditorium, seating more than 700, was another major addition. Plays, concerts, and convocations highlight the activities it has already seen.

1. Andi Fahien and Sonya Adkins enter the 21st century with canine chow and doggy diapers. 2. Tony Clarke demonstrates the acute attention needed to be a drummer. 3. Homecoming hysteria can affect even freshmen sometimes! 4. Darlene Gabbard studies with rapt attention.

Keeping the pace . . . whew!

Life is getting tougher, all right. The pressure from homework, tests, activities, and work can give you a really rotten headache! But that never stopped CHS. We kept right on rolling, from Homecoming to Graduation. We were evaluated as excellent by a North Central committee, and we dedicated our new facilities with a special ceremony. We summarized 1981 forever in a time capsule, and cheered our first girls' cross-country team on to victory. We jumped in feet first with the new areas, and formed a swim team, put together a variety show, presented two play productions, and filled the new auditorium for a Christmas concert in January. Yes, we made life interesting! But what else can you expect from CHS?



1. Jerry Glenn and Peggy Shaw decide that psychiatry has its advantages as they perform a scene from the fall play. 2. Mrs. Johnston keeps a watchful eye over her class. 3. A spirited Alexia Ronald hams it up at a football game. 4. Joy Bales and Grethlyn Markey think dances are a better place to let your hair down.

1. Keeping his head above water proves to be difficult for Scott Johnson. 2. Jeff Dauer and Jeff Beck are caught in a freindly pose. 3. Is Mike Hoey being kidnapped? No, Mr. Arnold is actually saving his life!

And now, the rest of the story

No matter what the season, winter, summer, spring, or fall, CHS students are always busy being involved. We'll always have that touch of class of get us through, and that's what makes this school special. It isn't just one person, or the building, or even the faculty, but all of us working together, putting our hearts in every thing we do, and making good things happen. That's what gives us class.

And now we'll show the rest of the story; the smiles, the laughter, the tears, and sweat. It was hard work, but now that the year is done, it was worth it, wasn't it!

Activities

Bridgford reigns as first

Scott Bridgford went on the CHS record books as the first Homecoming King as he and Queen Kim Poindexter reigned over the '81 festivities coordinated by Student Government and the Senior Executive Council. Under a "Circus" theme, the floats took a final lap around the track, with the Junior class winning Best Overall float. Halftime activities included a gala performance by the high school marching band and Centurions, along with the crowning of the royal couple. A dance ended the activities as students danced to the music of DJ Dave Lumpkin.

Juniors win top float

The parade, organized by student government, set everybody in a winning mood for the game. The Parade theme was the circus in which the classes and clubs picked names for their floats. The junior class received the award for best theme and best overall float. The winning theme was "Pound Those Tigers." The science club won the award for best mechanical float. Volunteers from CHS dressed as clowns in the parade to present a cheery atmosphere for the cold game ahead. The game proved to be a disappointment even after the strong spirit raisers.

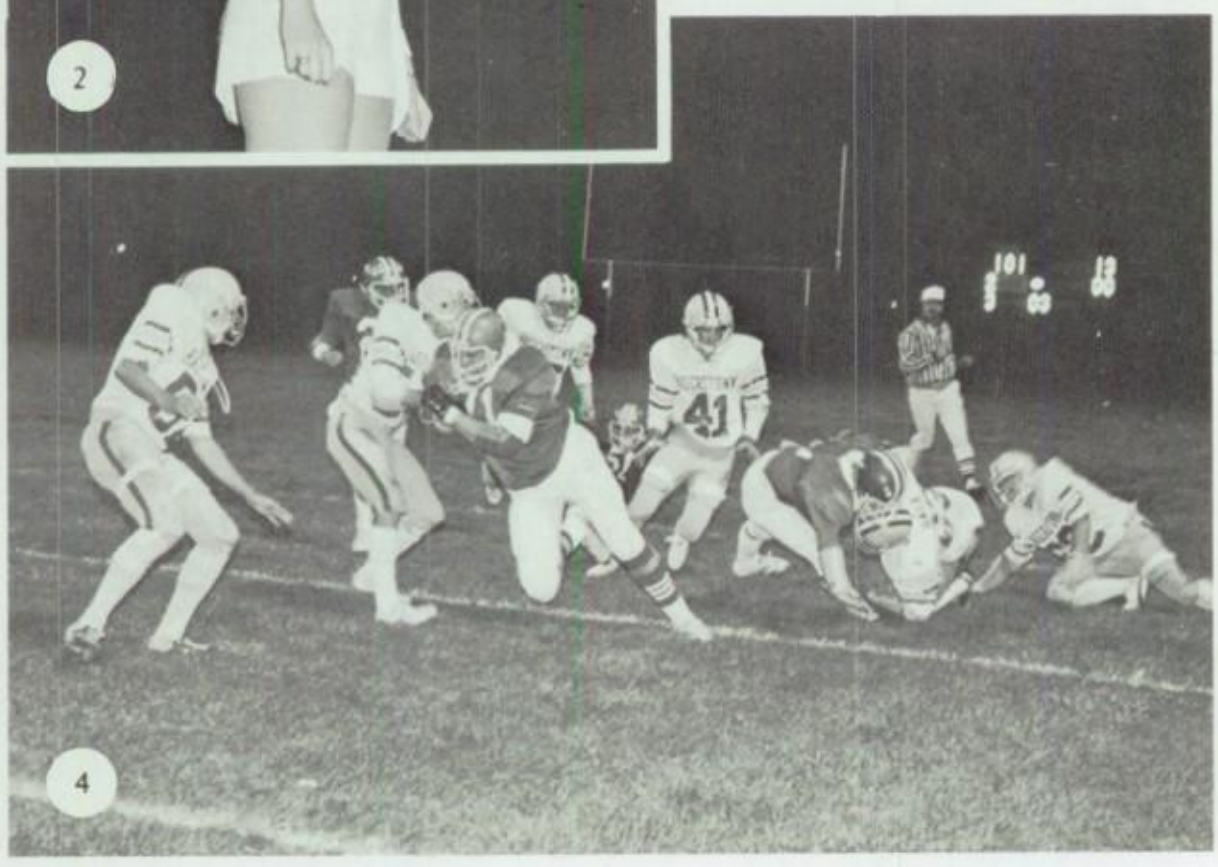
1. Seniors display their float with much enthusiasm. 2. The band and Centurions march in step with drum major Darrin Dolehanty. 3. The junior class was proud when they won two prizes for their float. 4. One of many participants in the parade was the Graphic.

honors for 81 Homecoming

Although every player gave his best effort, the Bulldogs lost the Homecoming game 21-8. Coach Vanderbeck recalls the game as being mostly defensive action. Even though the game was not a victory, the crowd enjoyed the display of floats and the crowning of the king and queen. Coach Vanderbeck regards the game as being a strong effort. Despite the cold weather, everyone was ready for the after-the-game Homecoming dance put on by the senior class.



1. Varsity football team members enjoy a ride on their own float before the game. 2. The half-time show put on by the band and Centurions was directed by drum major Lori Beier. 3. Scott Palmer snares a pass to make his way to the goal line. 4. Scott Tanner puts forth his best effort to keep back the opposing team.

"Let it Rain"

"Let It Rain," a comedy by David W. Christener, is a modern version of Noah's Ark, very similar to the movie, "Oh, God!" It is filled with humorous dialogue, believable characters, and comic situations. Would you believe a psychiatrist who told you that God had decided to start over and begin the new world with only his family? They didn't believe Doc Adams either, until the rain began.

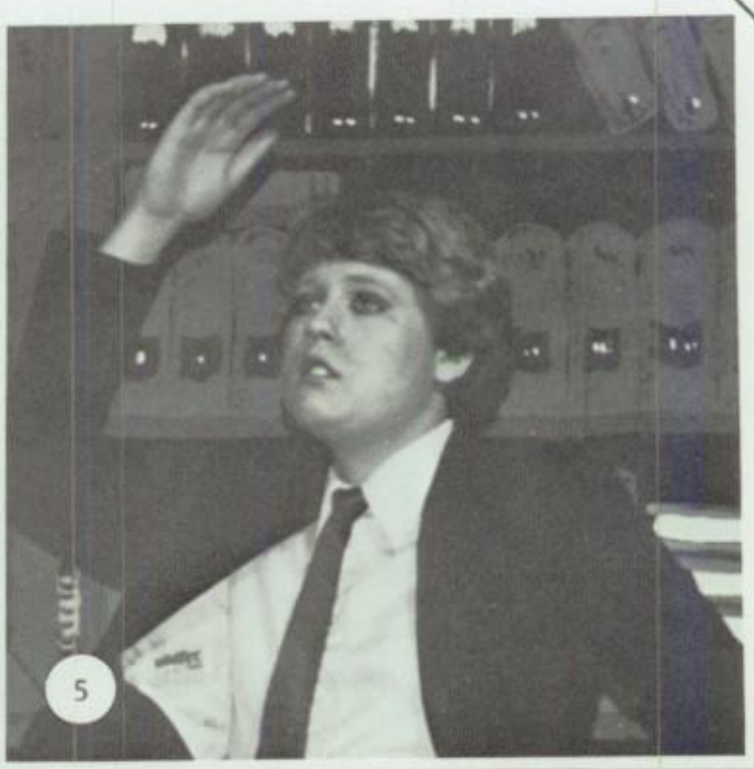
"I feel the most important thing to remember in high school drama is that acting takes a lot of hard work. The play was under criticism by some, but it was the same few that failed to realize that acting is just that — acting. And all my actors did a wonderful job at creating their characters. I was very pleased with the production."

— Kathy Ballenger, Director

A success!



1. Doc Adams scolds God for his careless attitude toward ending the world. 2. Tomasi and his thugs impress Doc's young secretary. 3. God turns to advice from his "right-hand angel" Gabriel, portrayed by Kim Smith, who was named Best Actress. 4. Doc Adams and Michaela Lee discuss "freudian motives." 5. God debates his decision to destroy the world. 6. Jerry Glenn was chosen Best Actor for his portrayal of Doc Adams. 7. God comes to dinner and chats with Winnie, Doc's wife. 8. Cast members: Lori Beier, Jerry Glenn, Kim Smith, Jeff Ray, Pam Rains, Peggy Shaw, Dan Myers, Rick Smith, Ken Ebacher, Craig Austerman, Alexia Ronald. Absent from picture: Missy Jones, Beth Cook, Kirk Liebert.

Couples dance

Couples danced "Under the Mistletoe" and to music played by Ice Age at the 1981 Christmas dance. The dance took place at Earlham Hall on December 19.

The main event of the evening was the crowning of Randy Puterbaugh and Beth Tice as king and queen. Carla Gossett, Melissa Bane, and Beth Brandenberg were chosen as princesses from the Junior, Sophomore, and Freshmen classes respectively.

The dance was sponsored by student government who provided refreshments and decorations. S.I.G.M.A. also organized entertainment and photographs to preserve memories of the romantic evening.

1. Debbie Poindexter and Eric Stuck enjoy a cheerful evening together.
2. Kristin Burtzlaff receives a rose from Lori Beier as she is escorted to the floor by Jeff Toney.
3. Lisa Murphy and her date stop a few minutes for refreshments during a break.
4. Randy Puterbaugh and Beth Tice were chosen by students as king and queen.
5. Sophomore princess candidate Monica Waddell and her escort Scott Palmer descend to the dance floor to await the naming of the court.
6. The main event of the evening was the naming of the royalty which consisted of: from left to right; Carla Gossett, Beth Tice, Melissa Bane, and Beth Brandenberg.

Convocations — all types

A wide variety of convos were presented this year, from genetics to mimes. Many of the convos, which were both informative and entertaining, were held in the new auditorium.

Although pep sessions were too rowdy for the auditorium, they proved to be effective even in the gym. Student participation seemed to be a helpful factor in getting students and teachers fired up for a victory.

1. The Union Jacks, a big hit at CHS, played many songs of the Beatles and other popular tunes liked by students.
2. Robert Prichard, a mime from the Student Assembly Services, was a new twist for students but managed to cause everyone to laugh.
3. Brave students engulfed pies for a pie eating contest during a pep session.
4. Brenda Harman dashes to take Jeff Beck's cap to win a contest during a yearbook convo.

Due to the increased interest in Model Legislature this year, many members were chosen as alternates. Despite the large numbers, though, everyone participated and all took the trip to the State House in Indianapolis.

Many CHS students held positions of leadership which included; Scott Barton, House Republican; Craig Austerman, House Democrat; Jerry Glenn, Senate Republican; and Darrin Dolehanty, Senate Democrat.

1. Karen Burtzlaff gives the evil eye to those who disagree.
2. As Speaker of the House, Scott Barton keeps things running smoothly.
3. Sheryl Peters spreads a secret through the Senate.
4. To make sure her point is believed by all, Carla Gossett gives a convincing grin.
5. Darrin Dolehanty seems to know what he's talking about.

We the Jury

This year's spring play was an adaptation of Reginald Rose's "Twelve Angry Men" renamed "Twelve Angry Jurors." The three-act play tells the story of a jury's deliberation on a hot summer day. A nineteen year old boy has just stood trial for the fatal stabbing of his father. The decision concerning his guilt must be made beyond a reasonable doubt. Eleven of the jurors have not bothered to doubt. At least until juror number eight notes some interesting observations. Tempers get short, arguments grow heated, and twelve angry jurors are born.

Seniors Kim Smith and Jerry Glenn held the lead roles as juror number eight and juror number three.

A confrontation between juror number two, Chris Coffman, and juror number eight, Kim Smith. 3. Juror number three, Jerry Glenn, finds it hard to control his temper. 4. Another disagreement between the jurors. 5. Jerry stands alone in his verdict of guilty. 6. Kim Smith points out path traveled by old man, as other jurors look on. 7. Juror number three looks with disgust towards other jurors. 8. Jurors look in disbelief as juror number eight proves incriminating testimony to be false. 9. Peggy Shaw and Dan Myers re-enact the "actual crime." 10. Rebecca Bing, as juror number eleven, stresses a point. 11. Kim Smith paces the distance traveled by an old man claiming to have seen the murderer.

"We've Got Tonight"

Bubbling drops of water cascading from a ceiling fountain and swirling clouds of fog greeted couples at the 1982 Junior-Senior Prom, "We've Got Tonight." The dance was held on May 1, in the CHS Lee Outland Gym.

The local band Sunrise serenaded the couples as they swayed under a rainbow ceiling of pastel colors. Pete Horn and Cindy Perry reigned over the festivities.

Following the dance, the hit comedy "Airplane" was show in the new auditorium. A contiental breakfast of donuts, rolls, and juice was served after the movie.

Congratulations to the Junior class on a job well done. The 1982 Prom was a night to remember for many CHS couples.

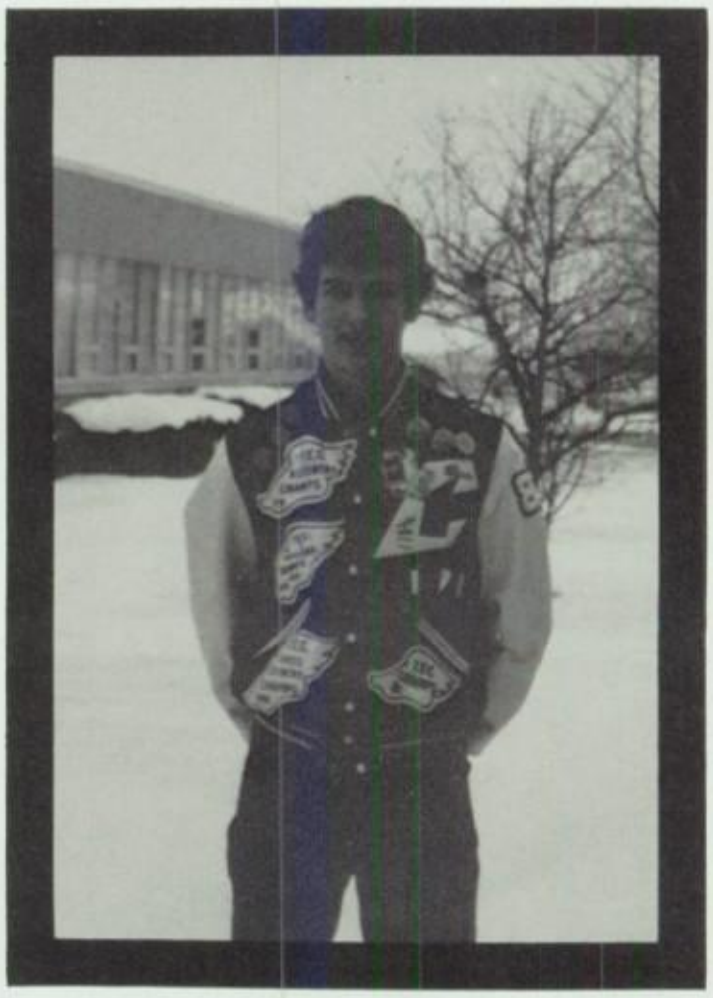
The Rainbow Dynasty, commonly known as the Centurions, added three new members to the All-American Drill Team this year. Kim Miller became the first three year member in the nation. The new members are, from left to right: Linda Bellew, Kim Miller, and Kim Falin.



Joe Lake left his mark on the record when he became the first ever from CHS to advance to state competition in cross-country. He also received the DAR Good Citizens award.

Scott Barton and Jerry Glenn were accepted into the pre-honors division at Indiana University where they will be attending next fall.

Stanley Hall was named Outstanding High School Science Teacher for the Year. The award was presented by the National Sigma Xi Organization and the Ball State University Chapter.

Dave Hoffman was the only student from CHS to continue on to the Regional Science Fair at Ball State. Dave's project, fiber optics, techniques and applications, won him the U.S. Air Force Award most outstanding, the U.S. Army special award honorable mention, Moscow Puzzles, senior division math and engineering first, and Jets award Honorable mention.

Class of 1982

On May 28, 1982, several CHS students were recognized for their special achievements. Honors were bestowed on many seniors and also underclassmen.

Mr. John Bastin, CHS assistant principal, acted as Master of Ceremonies. Carla Gossett, 1982-83 Student Government president, gave the Pledge of Allegiance.

The Honor Section for the Class of 1982 was named. They are: Scott Barton, Kim Smith, Lori Beier, Darrin Dolehanty, Craig Coffman, Peggy Shaw, Jeannine Morgan, Deneen Nolley, Joe Darnell, Joe Lake, Kim Reece, Jerry Glenn, Scott Tanner, Jay Standish, and Kim Poindexter.

1. Scott Barton receives the science award from Mr. Hall. 2. Joe Lake is awarded the Rose Hamilton scholarship for his efforts throughout high school. 3. The Erpha Mathews Memorial Dramatic Award went to Jerry Glenn for his excellent performances throughout the year. 4. Mrs. Wright awards the secretarial award to Kim Poindexter. 5. Jerry Glenn, Mark Moegerle, and Kim Smith receive their Thespian stars while Kim Reece and Terri Mertz share a private joke. 6. Craig Coffman accepts the American Legion Award. 7. Mrs. Carrol Rhodes seems to enjoy awarding Mike Snyder the Crusader Award for his talented efforts on the paper. 8. Greg Upchurch upholds the standards for the industrial arts award, which was awarded by Mr. Hopkins.

Honor Society

National Honor Society inducts juniors and seniors with a 90 per-cent or better scholastic average and evaluates candidates on the basis of three other categories: service, leadership, and character. Ranking and activity records are also factors. Twenty-two students were inducted this year on April 15. Scott Barton conducted the induction. Jerry Glenn spoke on scholarship, Denise Alvey, character; Darrin Dolehanty, leadership; Lori Beier, service. New members were helped to light a candle and the ceremony ended with the NHS pledge.

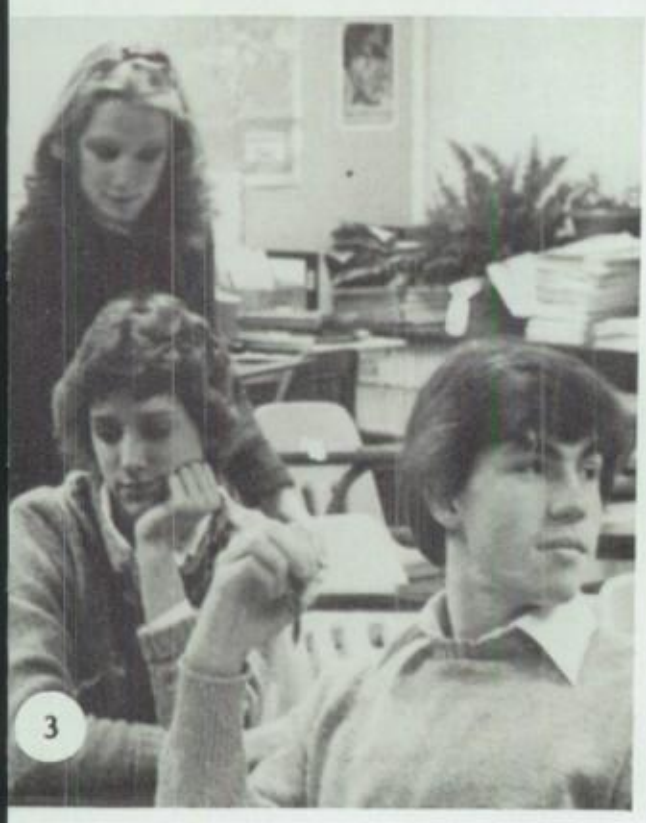
1. Speaker Scott Barton makes his point humorously at the NHS induction.
2. Senior Scott Tanner gleefully expresses the opinion that he is number one along with junior Bob Ramsey at the NHS induction.

SIGMA

This year's student government, the SIGMA Senate, and their sponsor Mr. Phil Stevenson were responsible for many of the activities and special services. It is thought that SIGMA is just four people, but there are actually 42 members in the Senate. Each works hard for the activities CHS gets.

SIGMA was in charge of sponsoring the first dance, the Homecoming parade, the Christmas dance, and a faculty basketball game against the Union County High School faculty.

1. SIGMA Senate: from left, front; Jerry Glenn, Rebecca Bing, Amy Rodewald, Karen Burtzlaff, Lori Beier, Deneen Nolley. SIGMA Officers from left; Darrin Dolehanty, vice president; Kim Smith, secretary; Scott Barton, president; Jenny Hite, treasurer; Phil Stevenson, sponsor.



3. Scott Barton attempts to look preppy as Jenny Hite ponders and Karen Burtzlaff gropes to another seat.

4. Neal Brown, SIGMA Senator, listens intently to a proposed idea.

Drama

Under the direction of Miss Kathy Ballenger, the drama club produced "Let It Rain" in the fall and "Twelve Angry Jurors" in the spring. The busy drama club also sponsored a dance. Officers for this year were Jerry Glenn, president; Craig Austerman, vice president; Lori Beier, secretary.

Best Actor awards went to Jerry Glenn for his roles of Doc in "Let it Rain," and Number Three in "Twelve Angry Jurors." Best Actress awards went to Kim Smith for her portrayal of Gabe in "Let It Rain," and Peggy Shaw for her role of Number Four in "Twelve Angry Jurors."

ROW 5: Ken Ebacher, Kirk Liebert, Rick Smith, Missy Jones, Jenny Hite, Rebecca Bing, Deneen Nolley, Chris Coffman, Mark Moegerle, Angie Arnold, Lynn Gilmore, Steve Combs, Eddie Woods.

1. Dan Myers becomes indignant at Missy Jones' words as Kim Smith reacts in character and Pam Rains sits cross-legged in this no-names play. All the actors and actresses were identified by simple characterization and number.
2. Mark Moegerle, playing the guard, gives the floor plan of the apartment building to Jason Price portraying the foreman.
3. God, played by Jeff Ray, listens as Doc, played by Jerry Glenn, explains.

Thespians

The International Society of Thespians is the honor society for Drama Club members. Ten new members were inducted. Ten at the January 20 Thespian Induction. To be inducted into the society individuals must earn at least ten points of credit by working in any area, or combination of areas of theatre, such as acting, make-up, and publicity. In this way, students show their love of theatre. The Thespian members conducted and performed the induction.

1. Past Technical Director Mark Moegerle shyly accepts his membership certificate from a beaming Becky Oberle as Angie Arnold observes intently.

2. Radiant senior inductee Tonya Riley receives her certificate of membership and a handshake from Becky Oberle, Thespian president of local troop 1042.

3. Thespian members Jerry Glenn and Jeff Ray spearheaded this year's fall production, "Let It Rain," With the roles of Doc, a psychiatrist, and God, who comes to earth looking for someone to build the ark.

Bulldog Banner

A Banner edition every two weeks is a lofty goal, but this year's staff accomplished it. They sold ads to print the paper, spun stories off their pens when snow days put them behind, and scrambled to meet those ever-present deadlines. Jerry Glenn and Randy Puterbaugh co-edited each edition with a total of fifteen issues.

Advisor Ken McCaslin kept staff members on their toes with periodic "chats" and his constant, so helpful, advisement. This year's paper staff was known for having difficulties with proof-reading and that old quirk called time budgeting.

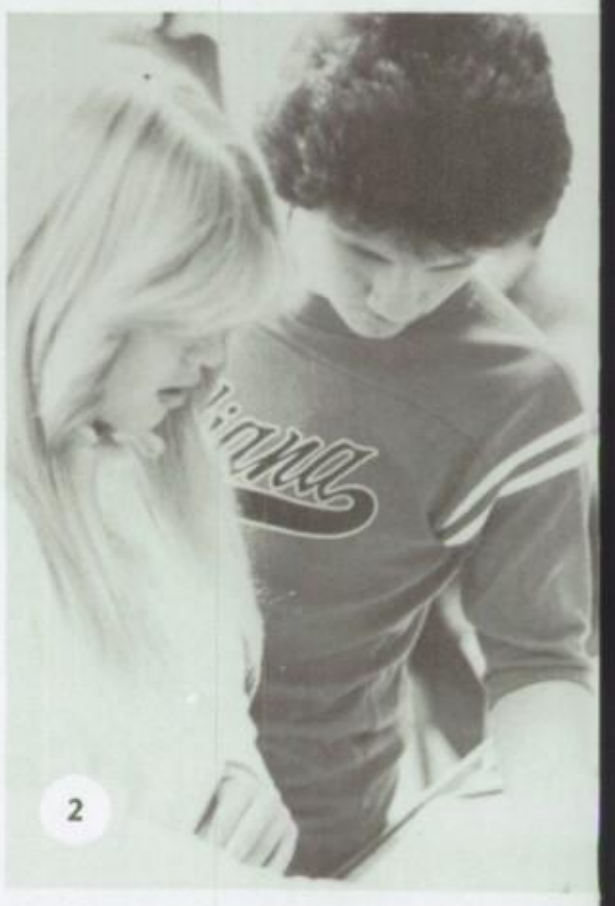
1. Eddie Miller pastes down a Banner page as Greg Dancho proofreads, or just reads, the in-preparation page.



2. Randy Puterbaugh, co-editor, assists Tina Haskett on a page layout.

3. Our reporters are sent to exciting news events such as the Nazi rally where storm-troppers force reporter Martha Helderman to decide between her pen and paper or her life.

Spanish

Spanish Club members traveled to Miami University to see Spanish plays and went to Chi-Chi's in Cincinnati to taste Mexican food at its best. At Christmas time, Spanish students got together with French students for a Spench Christmas party. This year's officers were Mike Asher, president; Don Day, vice president; Karen Burtzlaff, secretary-treasurer.

A Spench Christmas party crowned the French club's year. Nobody seemed to know what the French Club was doing, had done, or would be doing. Officers for this year were Lori Beier, president; Jerry Glenn, vice president; Rebecca Bing, secretary; Craig Austerman, treasurer.

1. Sharon Mauer and Jenny Hite seem to be expressing vastly different opinions of Mexican cuisine.
2. Eric Greubel offers an idea as his neighbors look on with deep interest in the proceedings.

Science Club

Science Club designed and built another winning homecoming float, and received the Best Club float award. Diligent planning paid off as the Science Club trekked to Indiana University's Physics Open House and then on the annual Chicago trip. Later, a food auction was held for the remains of the Windy City Chow.

Despite sponsor impeachment efforts, club members thought their officers carried on well and would not support the ousting efforts. Officers for this year are Craig Austerman, president; Mark Moegerle, vice president; Lisa Hughes, secretary. Officers, be glad for loyal members.

Chess Club

Every Monday before our homeroom policy changed, members of the Chess Club battled. According to an avid chess player, some participants in the game sit behind the chess pieces and others play chess. Some still haven't decided what the object of the game is, to get checkmate or to get as many of the opponent's pieces as one can. This exclusively male club has yet to find out, however, learning is fun, and no lack of joy over victory or agony over defeat exists after a game. Boys have always competed physically.

1. Terry Trisler calculates another move on the white knight, Mark Olive, whose knights have both been wiped out. 2. Brad Pope ventures a play on Greg Upchurch, who tries to concentrate on his game with the cameras around.

Business Club

Bob Van Pelt from Famous Recipe and Rax, and Venna Felmy from West End Savings and Loan were two outstanding guest speakers the club heard from at meetings this year. The members also enjoyed, or rather didn't enjoy, three snowed out Christmas parties and a skate that flopped because it was on the eve of the ice storm. On April 23 the club went on an all day field trip to Kroger Save-On, the Palladium-Item, and Hill's Roses This year's officers were Valerie Hartman, president; Linda McKee, vice president; Kim Poindexter, secretary; Mary Wolf, treasurer. Business Club, then, had a busy, and as they can testify, fun year.

1. Passing out information is a necessary evil, but one Linda McKee doesn't seem to mind.
2. Valerie Hartman pauses for a moment's meditation during a Business Club meeting.
3. Jean Harpenau decides her hair needs a trim during a Business Club meeting.

Art Club

"The club has done a lot of planning. They are good planners," Mr. Harrison, sponsor of the Art Club, laughed.

The results of diligent planning were an Art Club dance and sets for the spring play "Twelve Angry Jurors," as well as assisting Mr. Harrison on the "Let it Rain" sets. This year's officers were Chris Matherly, president; Cindy Perry, vice president; Jeff Gindling, secretary; Vicki Boyce, treasurer.

This year's Art Club will be remembered as good planners.

Jazz Band

The Jazz Band Members went to contest in New Lebanon for the first time ever and received a second place. They also performed for an audience of school superintendents. The members enjoyed a two hour vacation from school when they performed for the Kiwanis on March 26.

Jazz Band jam sessions last from 7:00 to 8:30 every Tuesday night. Despite much practice, male jazz musicians still found it difficult to blow their horns and gaze from the pit at Rose Festival Queen candidates.

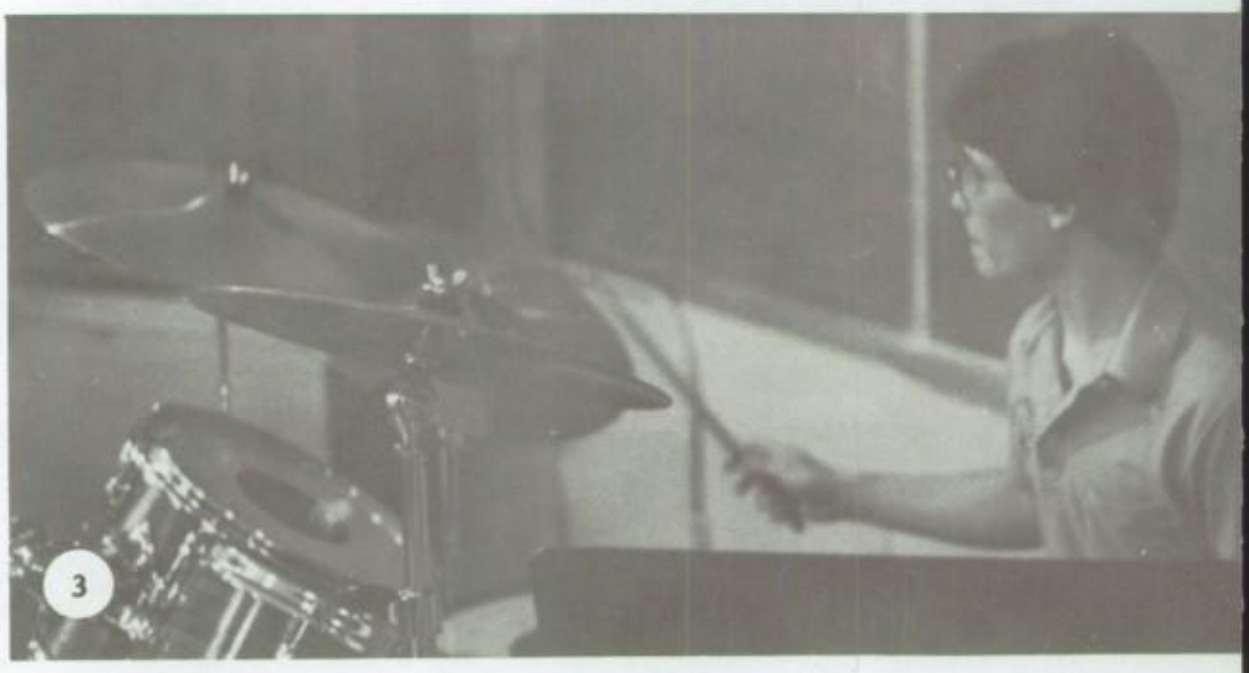
1. Scott Barton, Craig Coffman, Beth Brandenburg, Ron Black, Derek Rabey, and Darin Aughe play for another audience.
2. Jazz band members strive for musicality and showmanship as they perform for principals.
3. Bob Schroeder, determined, taps the cymbal to give the jazz band that just right cool jazz touch.



Indecision

Indecision derived its name from the inability of its members to decide on a name. Director Randy Ecker admitted he should have known better than ask 14 women to decide on something. Decisions were made, and the girls' ensemble received first place ratings in the first, or highest division at regional and state music competitions. The girls, singing, smiling, and shaking with fear at times, performed for groups of 20 to crowds of 600.

1. Mike Duke, pianist, accompanies Indecision as director Randy Ecker turns the pages while the girls do their thing.
2. Indecision perform their beautiful jazz Christmas medley at the Christmas choral concert.
3. Principals listen as Indecision advises in song, "Don't Cry Out Loud."

Y-Teens

The Girl Invite dance, titled "Superstitions," and held on Friday, November 13, was a success. Halls were decked for Christmas then refreshments served on December 11th. Harmonious singing valentines were delivered on February 11 and 12. On March 19, the Y-Teens bashed at the high school overnight. The horror film "Patrick" was shown. King's Island was the choice place to have a Spring Fling, so on Saturday, May 1, the girls traveled there. On May 7, a style show, Y-Teen Cabinet Induction and catered meal made up the Mother-Daughter Banquet. Officers were Linda McKee, president; Tina Haskett, vice president; Lisa Centers, secretary.

Grapplettes cheered constantly and kept all the stats along with providing moral support for all the dieting and starving wrestlers. This fearsome group of girls was always ready to cheer the guys on when the shoulders of their opponent were ready to hit the mat.

Grapplettes: from center, front; Patti Cook, Cindy Mathews. ROW 2: Lisa Mason, Sheryl Lang, Kim Falin, Linda Bellew, Andi Dickens, Beth Tice, Angela Shewman.

Harrier Helpers

Keeping stats, recording times, and cheering the harriers on were some of the kindnesses the Harrier Helpers performed. Stopwatch in hand, one called out times as another wrote them down. Without them Joe L. wouldn't have known he had broken any records.

1. Julie Brooks watches the runners as Becky Oberle, Karen Burtzlaff and Lori Beier record stats.
2. Patti Cook times and records grappler stats and Angela Shewman laughs at someone who has caught her eye.

150% Club

The six-man lifter club gained one member during the 1981-82 school year with the supervision and sponsorship of Bill Richardson. Some of the guys lift during lunch at times, but the actual building is individual.

Varsity C

There is no doubt that Centerville High School's Varsity C is the rowdiest club in the school, composed of big, strong, tough letterman who attempt to keep the players enthusiastic and the referees fair. Of course, the guys don't always get their own way. When they don't, everyone at the ball game knows it. The club had 35 members who cheered wildly for their school teams and proudly wore their letter jackets.

Presenting the class of 1982

SENIORS! Right! We made it! There's no denying us now. Alumni! Will they remember us? Did we leave our mark? To write about us, well . . . we might get a bit sentimental, but trying to stay fairly objective, let's first mention Linda Day, who at age 32, returned to school after about 18 years to graduate with her senior son, Donnie. Joe Lake has received his share of ink, but when you accomplish what Joe did, you deserve the ink.

When we look back, we'll remember Mike Cobine who died in an auto accident prior to the start of school. The good and the bad times — we lived them all, but we've finally made it. Bye, bye CHS. Thanks for the memories.

Graduation on May 28

The Lee Outland gym played host to yet another graduation as 144 members of the Class of 1982 collected their diplomas on May 28 as friends and families numbering more than 2,000 watched.

Class President Randy Puterbaugh and Student Body President Scott Barton delivered the commencement addresses while Rev. John Stuck gave the baccalaureate talk. School administrators and board members presented the diplomas.

Underclass

Successful juniors add touch

The class of "83" faced many challenges as juniors. But with hard work, determination, and a little luck they found the road to success on many of them.

Using "Pound Those Tigers" as their theme the junior class walked away with best theme and best overall float at the October 2 Homecoming.

Magazine sales were another big junior success as they pulled in a total of $8,528 with Gail Smoker top salesman.

Using the money made from magazine sales, the juniors put in hours of hard work into the traditional prom night. But it all paid off, as the junior-senior prom, "We've Got Tonight," held at CHS on May 1 was a success.

Darin Jenkins and Van Burelison kick back and take it easy at å CHS cross-country meet.

Sophs have snow — slow year

Bad weather caused the cancellation of many Executive Council meetings which made the 1981-82 school year a little slow for the sophomore class. Few activities were attempted.

Several sophomores were achievers. Lisa Dellinger, Debbie Poindexter, and Monica Waddell were three of the five varsity cheerleader squad. Eight band and choir members received superior ratings at the State Solo and Ensemble Contest. Many sophomores participated on varsity squads in sports this year.

Lisa Hamm was the president of the Class of 1984.

Rookie float builders show

The Freshman class made a strong showing in the homecoming parade with a float theme of "Stick 'em."

In order to attack a deficit of over $100, the class officers and executive council decided to charge $1 dues which elminated the red ink. Mr. Allen appreciated those who showed interest.

Several freshman made outstanding showings in areas ranging from music to sports.

In music Sherry Fields, Jenny Widau, Alexia Ronald, Tammy Skinner, and Kelly Smith were active in the Girls' Ensemble which participated at the State Solo and Ensemble contest in February.

Chris Mull and Eric Grueble wrestled on the Varsity Wrestling team.

As the 1982 school year ended so began summer vacation, summer school and, for graduating seniors, the start of a different way of life.

Looking back on the past year, one remembers the first day of school beginning with the christening of our new auditorium with the first convo. Homecoming, the fall play and Christmas quickly followed down memory lane.

Senioritis set in for a long stay for the class of 1982 while underclassmen drudged on through the winter months.

All will recall the victorious space shuttle launches and landings and the disheartening Falkland Islands controversy.

Looking back at all we've done

1. John Ball gives his famous "senior snarl." 2. Aspiring model Kim Smith practices her look. 3. The assurance that "graduation is near!" perks up seniors Jay Standish, Joe Darnell, and Joe Lake. 4. Rick Mustaine and Lisa Dixon share some good times. 5. Craig Austerman proudly displays his new sweatshirt as he explains, "It's the only place to go!" 6. Brian Baldwin uses creative means to secure a "big D".

7. Amy Rodewald sighs at the end of a long day. 8. Cool sophistication radiates from Kathy Hopper. 9. "Did he ever teach us to read these things?", asks Deneen Nolley, disgustedly.

We close with class

A combination of snow and 70° temperatures entertained the month of April while spring sports headed for strong seasons.

The 1982 prom, "We've Got Tonight", launched May, and the senior countdown stood at 13.

Excitement and sadness marked May 28. Honors Day during the morning hours and commencement in the evening brought on the mixed emotions.

All and all the past school year will be remembered for both the good times and the bad and a touch of class in our same old brand new place.

1. The alligator strikes again! 2. "And I do head stands, too," says Jerry Hauptstueck. 3. Denise "Doo Wopp" Alvey shows her enthusiasm during spirit week at CHS. 4. Eric Stuck, Randy Puterbaugh and Greg Dancho take over hall patrol for Mr. Bastin. 5. Juniors Van Burelison and Andi Fahien are caught in "the act." 6. "Voila, royalty at last!" exclaims King Pete Horn. 7. "Just standing on the corner watching all the . . . oh! I'm not alone," discovers Jerry Glenn. 8. Birds of a feather are Randy Puterbaugh, Mike Snyder, Eddie Miller, Rick Mustaine, Scott Bridgford, and friend.

TRI-EDITORS

It's hard to come back after a great year and be full of new ideas. The beginning of this year was really tough! Between the three of us trying to agree and a staff of mostly rookies, it was a miracle that anything got done. Our representative Kim Ash and our friend and advisor Ken McCaslin are entirely responsible for getting us organized and keeping us sane. Many, many thanks to them. We may get the credit for this book, but we couldn't have done it without Kim and Mac.

The staff deserves a lot of thanks also. Without their creativity, patience, and hard work, the great designs, inside stories, and personal touches wouldn't be there. Congratulations on a great job. A special thanks goes to Bill Wallace and to all of our photogs for their diligence and help. With the great work and fun we've had, this has been another fantastic year.

HOLLY, WHAT DO YOU SAY TO A FRIEND THAT'S

Holly,
You're one of my favorite friends. You're very nice, sweet, friendly, and of course how could I forget smart. This year is gonna be fun to be around. I do next year. Good luck in everything.
Friends always,
Sherry

Holly,
You're a great friend; the type everyone needs. Good luck in the future.
Friends always
John Keller

Holly,
What can you say about a great person?! It was a privilege and a pleasure to accompany you at contest last year. Thanks for being there!

...ER, ALWAYS, ETERNALLY. ETC. LOVE YA'! ☺

EN MORE THAN A FRIEND. THANK FOR BEING THERE WHEN I'VE NEEDED YOU. I LOVE HAVING YOU TO TALK TO. CUZ YOU LIKE TO LISTEN. FRIENDS FOR

Holly,
To a good friend
I've known for a long time. Hope good luck comes your way ~~thought~~ through life. Hope ya sit behind me this year too!

Love ya,
Pete

Forgot how to write.

Holly, you get tired of everyone telling you how smart you are, so I won't!
But I will repeat that you are a really sweet friend that I hope I can be friends with forever.
"84" Love Ya!
☺ Sheila
